

EHPS Annual National Delegate Report 2016

Country: NETHERLANDS

National Delegate: Dr Anne Marie Plass, Ph.D., anne.marie.plass@kpnmail.nl

- i. 2016 Past Events
 - The 5th annual conference of the Association for Researchers in Psychology (ARPH) took place in Maastricht on January 28 to 29, 2016. Dr Stefanie Salmon won the 2016 Best Thesis Award with her Ph.D. thesis on 'Health on Impulse: Exploring Low Self-Control and its Consequences for Food Choice.
 - The third national conference on positive psychology about 'Resilience: The importance of attention for compassion, wellbeing and stress in (mental) health care, education and coaching', took place on April 15th 2016 in Ede
 - A symposium on 'Motivation to Self-Regulation' was held in Utrecht on June 9th. In this symposium the effectiveness of implementation intentions and 'if-then' action planning was being discussed in relation to healthy and self-regulating eating behavior.
 - From June 27th to July 1st, a new Summer Course on Health Promotion and Health Communication: Theory and Practice was held in Maastricht at Maastricht University. More information can be found on www.maastricht-university.eu/hein.devries/summer-university-course
 - ii. 2016-2017 Coming Events
 - From 4-8 July 2016 the annual Summerschool Intervention Mapping at Maastricht University is organized, now in its 21st edition. The summer course focuses on developing theory-based and evidence-based interventions applied to health promotion and disease prevention. Language of instruction is English. More information can be found on www.interventionmapping.com.
 - The 6th annual conference of the Association for Researchers in Psychology (ARPH) will take place in Leiden on Thursday February 2nd and Friday February 3rd 2017. The call for abstracts and registration will be open soon. For more information, please go to: www.arph.nl/conference/upcomming-conference.
-

2. INTERNATIONAL GRANT OPPORTUNITIES

- i. KNAW Visiting Professors Programme (VPP)
www.knaw.nl/nl/prijzen/subsidies/visiting-professors-programme-vpp KNAW finances the working and stay of a promising and talented (top) researcher from abroad.
Deadline for nominations: November 1st 2016
- ii. NIAS Netherlands Institute for Advanced Study in the Humanities and Social Sciences
www.nias.knaw.nl
NIAS offers residential fellowships of three, five, or ten months to individual researchers or research groups. It provides a place to think, study and write, and to interact with colleagues from all over the world.
Deadline: There are various fellowships yearly, each with their own deadline. For more information go to the website.
- iii. Dutch-German collaboration: Von Humboldt Stiftung (VHS),

<http://www.nwo.nl/financiering/onze-financieringsinstrumenten/nwo/samenwerking-duitsland--von-humboldt-stiftung-vhs/samenwerking-duitsland--von-humboldt-stiftung-vhs.html>

The aim is to stimulate the international collaboration of excellent researchers (professors and leading in their field) by yearly granting two prizes to two excellent Dutch researchers, and to two excellent German researchers. Dutch excellent researchers can nominate German excellent researchers, German excellent researcher can nominate Dutch excellent researchers.

Deadline: No deadline, continuous application process